

ABOUT

Kim Clark, Executive Director

Q1. How did you come to work for the Centre?

A1. After working at the Zebra Child Protection Centre for nearly a decade, I had been looking for the next step for me personally and professionally. A chance conversation with a dear friend put me in touch with the opportunity to join the team at Our House. While the world of addictions is new to me, the synergies between non-profit organizations and helping vulnerable populations spoke to me. When I had the good fortune to have a tour here from a lovely staff member, I was hooked. While the infrastructure at Our House may need some work, it is evident that it has great bones and a beautiful heart.

Q2. When you want to unwind, what's your preferred relaxation method?

A2. I have an inner Baba that often takes over when I'm unwinding. Growing up with Ukrainian parents who were both raised rurally, I am happiest barefoot, outside in the dirt. We have a massive garden out of town that we tend to and then can and preserve in the fall. I'm blessed to have my two little ones alongside me learning many of the traditions.

Q3. What's something that most people don't know about you?

A3. Some may be surprised to know that I've completed three half marathons and a trail run despite not particularly enjoying running. I also danced ballet, modern, lyrical and Ukrainian for 11 years and would have continued had my ankles not given out on me.
